You practice your right if you send the withdrawal/notice statement before the above mentioned deadlines due.

The legal effects of withdrawal/notice

If you wish to cancel the contract, immediately, at the latest in 14 days from receiving your statement about the withdrawal/notice we refund the rewards you have already completed, including the delivery cost (excluding those extra charges which is arrised because you have not choosed the cheapest delivery service suggested by us). In case of refund we use the same paying method as is was at the original case, except, if you give contribution to use another paying method, thus applying other refund methods you wont have any additional cost

We can held back the refund, till we got the product, or you can prove that you have sent it back: from this two an earlier date should be taken into account.

You required without undue delay, or at the latest within 14 days from you sent the withdrawal statement to send back or to hand in the products.The deadline is deemed to have complied, if you sent the product before the 14 days ends. You should pay for the postage cost when sending back products.
